

16:47:06 From Dave - Crescent City:
Folks, The website worldwidewoodturners.org is partially up. I am still adding videos and it will continue to have videos added for days. But, there is now a presence on the web to welcome folks.

16:53:18 From Ken Spicer - Ashland VA:
I am in a room with other people and devices

17:15:29 From Steve Thomason, Texas:
<http://worldwidewoodturners.org/>

17:18:00 From Clint Hoyle:
didn't understand that problem.... the .com has Eddie's face on it.

17:20:11 From Clint Hoyle:
yeah, that makes sense... domain ownership can be tricky business.
:)

17:21:29 From Dane Chandler - Tucson AZ.....displaced Buckeye:
Eddie, I made a video last week of changing tires on a Laguna 14BX w/ the wheels on (it was easy). Is this something I should add? I did load it on the FB page

17:26:33 From Gordon Kincheloe Alamo Woodturners:
What glue did you use on the paper split turning>?

17:27:02 From Johnny Hughes:
he used Titebond

17:27:03 From DougMiller:
use your normal wood glue

17:27:25 From Gordon Kincheloe Alamo Woodturners:
Thanks..

17:28:25 From Dave - Crescent City:
It it my internet or his Dane cutting in and out on the video link?

17:29:04 From Doug in Arizona:
he's good to go on mine

17:30:06 From Dave - Crescent City:

Lots of typos, oops. Is my internet having problems or is it the internet as a whole. I am cutting in and out.

17:30:36 From Gerald Jensen:
Dave ... All good here

17:30:38 From Jack, Victoria, Texas:
I am having no problem in Texas

17:30:57 From Dave - Crescent City:
Thanks, it must be my internet.

17:33:28 From Steve Thomason, Texas:
emailto:worldwidewoodturners@gmail.com

17:36:00 From Lan Brady:
that is cool car!

17:38:39 From Joe Lesko:
where did you get the wheels in bulk?

17:39:16 From DougMiller:
joe, amazon

17:39:25 From Gerald Jensen:
Joe ... you can buy them by the bag full on Amazon

17:40:12 From Jack, Victoria, Texas:
Why not just turn them?

17:40:12 From Gary Bobenhausen:
We get ours from a supplier in Fort Worth Texas

17:41:24 From Gerald Jensen:
Wheels on Amazon:

17:41:24 From Chris Parker:
cool

17:43:51 From Chris Parker:

catenary curve look it up

17:48:23 From Clint Hoyle:
I just want to get back to ABQ for that "Frontier Restaurant"... awesome

17:52:33 From Dave - Crescent City:
Nice

17:52:44 From Tim Robertson, Dallas, Georgia:
The Laguna 1216 has experienced issue with that switch. They are replacing them when it occurs. All good comments but in this case the switch is probably bad.

17:52:52 From Carolyn Street:
My Laguna 1216 started that forward/reverse problem right after I got it and then it quit having that problem. Hope it doesn't come back.

17:54:29 From Kade Bolger:
sweet! that's great! I look forward to seeing it

17:54:45 From howardpatterson:
Most of the time if it burned out for sure. Use a light switch.

17:56:31 From Kade Bolger:
that's cool!

17:57:11 From Dave - Crescent City:
Good ...

17:58:44 From Tim Robertson, Dallas, Georgia:
The person with Laguna 1216 switch issue. Send me an email to tb.robertson@gmail.com I will send you and invitation to the "Laguna Lathe Owners" Facebook group.

17:58:55 From Clint Hoyle:
I don't actually see a "save chat" on the mobile app... anyone confirm?/different?

17:59:32 From Gerald Avery:
Glow in the dark glue from Elmers. Makes a cheap/good filler for voids in your wood turnings. It is a little hard to finish though.

goodnight Gerald

18:38:09 From Dane Chandler - Tucson AZ.....displaced Buckeye:
goo night Gerald.

18:42:37 From Dick Meuler - Des Moines, IA:
I've used small amounts of epoxy for years and a boat builder friend turned my on to using measuring spoons. I have a set of plastic measuring spoons with a wide array of sizes.

18:43:54 From Martin Clarkson:
can I say I did not see the 70s I was 0--6

18:44:52 From Paula Shea:
