17:03:25 From Kade B:
awesome. great job lil guy.

17:03:36 From Doug Miller:
Hi Dane. I have 3 more pieces to share as we have time. They can be dispersed throughout.

17:03:41 From Andy Schuster:
nice snowman. great job\

17:03:57 From Stephen Ogle:
Lucas Rocks!

17:04:49 From Chuck Slattery:
thanks everyone

17:05:34 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
got ya down davie

17:06:49 From rick barnes Indiana:
I have a piece to show along the one Kin showed

17:06:59 From Dan Rozell:
LOLOLOL

17:07:08 From Jason Camorlinga:
><

17:08:11 From Pohl Barn:
We can't take you anywhere Kim !

17:08:24 From Kade B:
lol

17:08:26 From Kevin Carpenter:
I have a piece

17:08:37 From Kim Tippin:
sorry. I just said what everyone was thinking....

17:08:45 From Billy:
I have a piece

17:09:15 From Andy Schuster:
so true,, kim, so true! LOL

17:09:15 From Chuck Slattery:
lol it went over his head i think

17:09:53 From Kim Tippin:
yeah, That's ok. maybe he will get it later. Give him a little chuckle . lol

17:09:57 From Matt Harber:
Too funny, Kim! I was googling "oosik"...

17:10:08 From Chuck Slattery:
lol

17:10:13 From Kade B:
lol

17:10:27 From Billy:
SMH

17:10:34 From Kade B:
very nice denis

17:11:58 From Kade B:
you can get them through Penn state as toothpick holders.

17:12:20 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
Dave rick & kevin on deck for show & tell

17:12:33 From Gerald Jensen:
They also make good needle holders

17:13:47 From Bruce from TN:
does anyone have an idea how to splice off a section of a bowling ball

17:14:32 From Stephen Ogle:
I have an item to show.

17:15:36 From Billy:
Bruce, I've used a bandsaw to cut bowling balls when I was using them to make pen blanks. But you have to be careful and the insides of the ball will dull the blade in a hurry!

17:15:39 From Joaquin Juatai:
that's gorgeous

17:16:00 From Matt Harber:
Suggestion to hosts: Use Zoom's "Raise Hand" feature to queue up for show and tell.

17:16:52 From Matt Harber:
... Automatically queues people up in order they raise their hands...

17:17:23 From Kim Tippin:
<https://www.batesville.com/>

17:17:43 From Matt Harber:
awesome Kim. Thanks! Very useful.

17:18:05 From Kim Tippin:
<https://www.batesville.com/products/memorial-keepsakes/>

17:18:19 From Joaquin Juatai:
I have a challenge coin if anyone would like to see one.

17:19:09 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:

I take the names down in order Matt

17:19:44 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
no hassle of taking hands down

17:21:41 From Matt Harber:
Cool, Dane. That certainly works...

17:22:02 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:

17:22:14 From Martin Clarkson:
one of the problems with the hands up option matt is that you have to keep your eyes on the full participants and that's hard with the numbers now

17:23:48 From Paul Hannaby:
I think those with hands up appear near the top of the list

17:24:06 From Matt Harber:
Yep...

17:24:26 From Matt Harber:
I understand, Martin. Just a suggestion....

17:24:30 From Doug Miller:
hi uncle Doug

17:24:36 From Martin Clarkson:
thats great if you watching the list lol and not the chat lol

17:25:09 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
it's under control

17:25:25 From Matt Harber:
LOL! What, you're not watching both at once? ^_^

17:25:37 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
lol

17:25:55 From Ron Vincent:
Kim try medals of America for brass metals

17:27:20 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
coins/badges can also be ordered at area VFWs & DAVs.

17:27:36 From Bruce from TN:
I use medalsofAmerica.com all the time

17:27:37 From Kade B:
much better view close up.

17:30:11 From Kade B:
rubber chunky

17:31:12 From Josh:
Army/Navy stores are also a good source for challenge coins. They come in many sizes and shapes. I am currently building a challenge coin case for a buddy and he had sizes from half dollar to 4 in. in diameter ranging in thickness from 1/8 in. to almost 3/8.

17:31:49 From Matt Harber:
2 different bearing sizes...
https://www.rubberchucky.com/store/p6/Finial_Chucky.html#/

17:32:19 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
yes, but civilians not able to shop them

17:34:24 From James Desbrow alamo woodturners:
National Outdoors in San Antonio has tons of medallions for all branches of the military and fire,EMS and police.

17:34:25 From Clint Hoyle:
what speed is he running that piece?

17:34:33 From Jeff Wood:
What speed are you turning<

17:35:42 From Stanley Keenum:
What is the overall length of finial

17:35:53 From Matt Harber:
Make sure you don't put excess pressure on the thin parts of the finial, while sanding or turning. If need be, you can support the back side of the finial with your finger.

17:37:00 From Dave - Crescent City:
Thank you Tres!!!

17:37:14 From Clint Hoyle:
great work, tres

17:37:22 From Andy Schuster:
thank you Trey for the great demo!

17:37:28 From Kade B:
Thank you Tres. well done.

17:37:33 From Joaquin Juatai:
Thank you!

17:37:37 From Bob Moffett - N.C.:
Yea, Tres!!

17:37:44 From Mike Morris:
thank Tres good job

17:37:52 From Jeff Wood:
Nice job!

17:37:54 From Hank:
Great job!

17:37:55 From Matt Harber:
Nice work, Tres!!

17:37:56 From Johnny Hughes:
thank you Tres

17:38:34 From Tres Lennep:

Finial that I just turned is about 4.25 inches

17:38:41 From Ronald Todd:
thanks tres

17:39:18 From Hank:
Can you turn up audio?

17:39:24 From Stanley Keenum:
Great job Tres - I enjoy all your demos

17:39:24 From Matt Harber:
Tres, can you talk a little bit about your chuck (is it standard pin jaws?)
and your small live center? Do you standardize your finial tenons (to 1/2")?

17:39:38 From Billy Dillard Houma, Louisiana:
Great work Tres

17:39:38 From Jeremy Highers:
thanks, great demo

17:39:39 From Tres Lennep:
I was using the small size rubber chucky

17:39:45 From Hank:
Thanks!

17:42:17 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
I see ya now

17:43:36 From Paul McDaniel Merritt Island Florida:
Ball Moss" Tillandsia recurvata is the air plant

17:44:53 From Billy:
Pretty piece, Doug

17:45:29 From Billy:
I have one, Dane

17:45:39 From Pohl Barn:
you all forgot about Stephen Ogal

17:45:41 From Kade B:
I have a few

17:45:47 From Doug Miller from KY:
thank you Billy

17:46:56 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
billy, Steve, kade ontap

17:47:48 From Stanley Keenum:
Was 1st tool a skewichi gouge?

17:47:54 From Jason Camorlinga:
Skateboard wheels

17:52:06 From Stanley Keenum:
Love the tool talk!

17:53:55 From Paul McDaniel Merritt Island Florida:
Skewchigouge was the tool shown

17:54:19 From Matt Harber:
Oooo! Very pretty!

17:54:22 From Billy:
Similar to the steady rest, I month or so ago I built a bowl steady and it works great.

17:54:51 From Matt Harber:
I'd love to see your bowl steady, Billy...

17:55:10 From Billy:
Matt, I did a YouTube video of the build

17:55:38 From Matt Harber:
Thanks, Billy, I'll go have a look.

17:55:38 From Joaquin Juatai:
that video is great Billy. I watched it about 20 minutes after you published it.

17:56:07 From Billy:
Thank you, Joaquin!

17:56:45 From Stephen Ogle:
Thanks Joaquin. I appreciate it.

17:57:06 From Hank:
Nice pe. Olge!

17:57:18 From Doug Miller from KY:
good stuff Stephen

17:58:09 From Stephen Ogle:
Thank you.

17:59:10 From Joaquin Juatai:
What do you finish the inside of the goblets with?

18:00:08 From Matt Harber:
I am now using Minwax Helmsman's Spar Urethane, clear gloss. It's what the folks who make wood fittings for boats use.

18:01:00 From Joaquin Juatai:
Thank you. Beautiful work!

18:01:07 From Matt Harber:
You have to be careful of epoxies... some of them don't handle hot liquids well.

18:01:45 From huck joe kansas:
I have used plain mineral oil

18:02:05 From Stephen Ogle:
Alumilite Amazing Clear Cast is good for hot liquids.

18:05:35 From Pohl Barn:
I can't barely give that ambrosia maple away

18:05:37 From Pohl Barn:
lol

18:06:51 From Joaquin Juatai:
nice work Mark

18:07:02 From Matt Harber:
I got some!!!

18:07:09 From Joaquin Juatai:
I'll take some!

18:07:18 From Billy:
You can send it to me, Doug! LOL

18:07:27 From Stephen Ogle:
A train carrying wood shavings crashed into his shop

18:07:37 From Ronnie Bonnette:
I have a piece to show

18:08:34 From Joaquin Juatai:
Doug your tip on shine juice in your video thebother day changed my finishes.
Thanks for that!

18:09:50 From Kade Bolger:
oops phone died. lol

18:10:01 From Pohl Barn:
the get the skin tip, You are welcome Joaquin

18:10:10 From Pohl Barn:
hot

18:10:44 From Joaquin Juatai:
It definitely gave my finishes a little more bang! But it does get hot!

18:14:26 From Jason Collett:
I got something

18:17:26 From brenda thornton:
how did dougs colored pencil form come out

18:18:05 From Billy:
I love the smell of cherry while I'm turning it!

18:18:42 From Matt Harber:
me too

18:19:38 From Matt Harber:
I think he's walking in circles....

18:20:51 From brenda thornton:
didn't he say say last week he was not putting the second one he did in the preasure pot

18:25:39 From Billy:
Ebonite!!! It's a hard rubber and is usually multi-colored and is gorgeous!

18:25:54 From Josh:
5 gallon bucket of warm water and dawn dish soap will pull oil out of a bowling ball

18:27:25 From Paul McDaniel Merritt Island Florida:
I bake the bowling ball blanks in a low heat toaster oven for a few min to get the oil to bake out

18:27:31 From Gerald Jensen:
Most of the core in older bowling balls was hard rubber.

18:27:59 From Matt Harber:
I got a little something (more) too...

18:28:13 From Billy:
I've tried that, Paul... it didn't help with one ball... it was horrible!

18:29:08 From Mike Morris:
how do you save chat on an iPad

18:29:28 From Paul McDaniel Merritt Island Florida:
That must have been one heck of a strike!

18:32:05 From Gerald Jensen:
Looks like a 9-pin ball ...

18:34:20 From Billy:
I'd rather turn one of those than the big ones!!

18:35:41 From Paul McDaniel Merritt Island Florida:
I have had some of the full size ball with a metallic core. It was throwing sparks when I cut thru the ball.

18:35:46 From Gerald Jensen:
A lot less damage if goes airborne!

18:36:54 From Tres Lennep:
Alcohol will soften hot glue so that you can remove the item glued.

18:43:23 From Andy Schuster:
have a good night folks, thanks for all the info

18:43:31 From Billy:
Fun times tonight!

18:43:46 From Mike Morris:
thanks to everyone!

18:43:54 From Kade Bolger:
great evening! cheers

18:43:54 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ:
great session ALL!

18:43:59 From Gerald Jensen:
Sweet dreams!

18:43:59 From Chuck Slattery:
thanks everyone

18:44:04 From Doug Miller from KY:
