SVG Indexing Wheel files for CNC from Gary are available at:
<https://worldwidewoodturners.org/featured-make-your-own-indexing-wheel/>

16:23:11 From John Kraft St. Louis, MO:
Stupid newbie question. My new lathe has some "indexing" positions on it.

What are those used for?

16:24:09 From Robbo Robertson:

For doing fluting or reeding and drilling holes at even spaces or putting clock numerals on.

16:24:14 From Paul Hannaby - UK:

You can use them for creating geometric designs, shapes etc.

16:24:51 From John Kraft St. Louis, MO:

Ah. ok. Thanks!

16:25:38 From Bob Grinstead - Mansfield, TX.:

open segment turning, bowls, vases etc..

i cant get it here in australia

17:13:25 From brenda thornton ohio:
I got my parfix from mark this week.

17:14:00 From Robbo Robertson Aussie woodturner:
I think that Bunnings has Parfix.

17:14:07 From dickstohr va to Dave Rhodes - Crescent City(Direct Message):
Dave I just tried to print my 2 x 4 card. Thanks for adding my name to the list. But the name shows up too low, not in name slot.

17:14:19 From Andy S. -harrisville pa:
Parfix is a medical grade ca. somebody over there should make it

17:14:59 From Dave Rhodes - Crescent City to dickstohr va(Direct Message):
Really? I will have to look at that. Are you using a Mac or PC. It may be related to the situation.

17:15:36 From Donald Masterton Lara Vic Australia:
i have tried everywhere some sell other parfix products but not 3408

17:15:44 From dickstohr va to Dave Rhodes - Crescent City(Direct Message):
Pc laptop and HP printer.

17:17:12 From Dave Rhodes - Crescent City to dickstohr va(Direct Message):
Curious. I will look at it after the meeting. It should work with the PC with no problem. Not sure what is happening.

17:18:09 From Lan Brady:
Wow, that is amazing!

17:19:49 From Ron Radliff - Washington State:
Call Mark Silay and talk to him directly for Parfix 3408

18:50:01 From Glenn Dornak:
active speaker is not coming up

18:50:33 From Matt Harber:
Check to see if you have "pinned" someone.

18:54:06 From Dan Rozell - Claremore, OK:
Question? Finishing a piece using Kim's friction polish, then OB Shine works great. However, I tried a piece then coating with spray lacquer. This piece has remained 'sticky'. I am thinking that lacquer doesn't play well with the bees wax from the friction polish, is that correct ?

18:54:54 From Paul Hannaby - UK:
Dan, lacquer over wax doesn't work

18:55:44 From Dan Rozell - Claremore, OK:
Thanks Paul, my suspicion was correct.

18:55:47 From Paul Hannaby - UK:
lacquer should be either straight on bare wood or applied over sanding sealer
or a compatible paint

18:56:11 From Paul Hannaby - UK:
you can put wax over lacquer but not the other way round

18:57:47 From KimTippin:
abrasive paste is not a friction polish. Ob Shine juice is a friction polish.

18:58:16 From Dan Rozell - Claremore, OK:
sorry Kim, I mixed my terminologies

18:59:04 From KimTippin:
that is ok! I just wanted to make sure you understood. It is easy to get them mixed up :) no need to apologize!!

19:00:00 From Dave Rhodes - Crescent City:
860 425 52131

19:00:21 From Dan Rozell - Claremore, OK:
I had thought that the OB would cover the bees wax in the abrasive polish, which would allow me to use lacquer. But, found out the hard way...lol

19:01:31 From Dan Rozell - Claremore, OK:
or is it that laquer and shellac don't play well together ?

19:03:16 From Doug Miller in Kentucky:
it's the lacquer over the wax that isn't working together.

19:03:50 From John Scelfo NJ:
Goodnight!

19:03:54 From Bob Moffett - N.C.:
See you Guys & Ladies next week.

19:04:01 From Paula Shea:
Thanks Eddie, Matt and Dane

19:04:01 From huck joe kansas:
Guud Night to all. Great meeting again.

19:04:11 From Doug Miller in Kentucky:
good night
