19:16:56 From Dave Leader - Glendora NJ (near Philly):
Where do diamond willow trees grow?
Image result for diamond willow
In Canada, diamond willows grow in Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, the northern part of British Columbia, and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. They also thrive in the vast Boreal Forest. Generally, where you find willow trees, you'll find willows with diamonds.

19:18:27 From Matt Harber:
Thanks, Dave - I've got a LOT of willows down here in Michigan, but I've never seen the diamond willows here.

19:24:37 From Dave Leader - Glendora NJ (near Philly):
I'd like to buy a few lengths and try my hand at carving as Kade's grandfather did.
