I have something
- 16:37:11 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:
I have my fan on as its very humid here today and with 100+ temp my audio is not the best. if 8 cannot be heard, please ask me to repeat.
- 16:37:57 From Bill Louch to Everyone:
Eddie It is better with your video off.
- 16:41:45 From Susan's iPad to Everyone:

- 17:05:38 From Dave George to Everyone:
Hi to everyone! Hope all is well for all.
Great club.
- 17:14:24 From Doug Miller to Everyone:
Good to have you Dave George.
- 17:14:32 From Ron Vincent to Everyone:
I have something to show
- 17:22:13 From James Desbrow Alamo Woodturners to Everyone:
What is puff paint?
- 17:34:01 From Scott Hampton to Everyone:
James... puff paint is what is used to 'paint' designs on T-shirts and other material. You can find it at pretty much every craft store.

17:40:36 From Scott Hampton to Everyone:
If you purchase the spectraply in larger pieces you can cut the blanks the stripes on an angle to give it a different look than just straight up and down.

17:41:11 From Scott Hampton to Everyone:
'blanks with the stripes'

17:42:40 From Eddie Castelin to Everyone:
Angled is a nice detail. Or slice, install an accent piece and put back together, even an arc, etc. Veneer works really well for this

17:45:33 From Scott Hampton to Everyone:
I like the arc idea Eddie.

17:49:16 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:
that's an perfect tip!

17:53:13 From Scott Hampton to Everyone:
I have found with the spectraply the material will build up in the flute of the drill bit because of all the glue., so backing out the bit several times is advised.

17:55:27 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:
indeed. that's a flaw with most 'play's type blanks.
good pointing out that intrinsic value to spetrify.

17:55:31 From Eddie Castelin to Everyone:
Spray a little PAM on the bit, all vegetable and works great to reduce gum up.

17:56:03 From Doug Smith , NH to Everyone:
Or bees wax

17:56:28 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:
these tips just keep coming! never tried that....
but am armed with that in the toolbox!

17:57:29 From Gerald Jensen to Everyone:
I use brass or stainless steel threaded inserts ... drill a hole, glue the insert in, and you are set!

18:13:37 From Dave Leader - Glendora NJ (near Philly) to Everyone:
Bottom tap followed by superglue usually works flawlessly

18:13:57 From Dave Leader - Glendora NJ (near Philly) to Everyone:
Then retap the super glue

18:17:16 From Eddie Castelin to Everyone:
Be sure the CA is cured, or you'll be needing some heat. LOL

18:20:27 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:

fabulous instructions & explanations

18:24:49 From Eddie Castelin to Everyone:
It would be very hard to beat this demonstration.

18:25:12 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:
for sure.

18:25:26 From Doug Smith , NH to Everyone:
Great demo as always from Kade.

18:26:09 From Robert Talluto to Everyone:
Thank you Kade. Great demonstration.

18:29:07 From Randy Smith in PA to Everyone:
Got to go have some shuteye. Good night everyone.

18:29:26 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:
night randy

18:33:25 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:
mineral spirits

18:34:41 From Scott Hampton, Visalia, CA to Everyone:
That's what stainless steel bedways are for, lol.

18:35:52 From gary hoffman arizona to Everyone:
great demo but why no dust mask

18:36:22 From Gerald Jensen to Everyone:
You wouldn't be able to heat him.

18:36:33 From gary hoffman arizona to Everyone:
ok

18:36:41 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:
hmmmm

18:36:47 From Gerald Jensen to Everyone:
make that "hear"

18:40:11 From Scott Hampton, Visalia, CA to Everyone:
'...heat him', lol. 'Kade... it's what's for dinner.

18:41:13 From Doug Miller to Everyone:
Eddie asked earlier if the stopper mandrill could be secured with a drawbar.

If the mandrill is drilled and tapped, and it should be,
of course it can.

18:43:04 From Dane Chandler -Tucson AZ to Everyone:
cutting technique was pushing into the spindle, so no worry of mandrel coming out while refining the cup inside.

18:44:32 From brenda thornton ohio to Everyone:
what is the purpose of having the stopper removeable?

18:45:02 From Gerald Jensen to Everyone:
So you can wash the stopper without getting the wood wet.

18:46:15 From Scott Hampton, Visalia, CA to Everyone:
The set of mandrels I have are made to be clamped into the chuck jaws or a collet chuck.

18:46:33 From Jacque (Jack) Jecker, Victoria, Texas to Everyone:
Wouldn't the finial break too easily to be on a bottle stopper. They are often handled a little rough.

18:46:56 From Gerald Jensen to Everyone:
My mandrel threads directly onto the spindle.

18:47:43 From Jacque (Jack) Jecker, Victoria, Texas to Everyone:
Mine also. That is just another way of turning it. There are many ways to do this.

18:49:20 From Dave Rhodes - Crescent City to Everyone:
Fabulous Kade

18:49:28 From Dave Rhodes - Crescent City to Everyone:
Thank you

18:49:58 From Dean Grimes TX to Everyone:
Excellent Demo Kade, Thanks for Sharing!!!

18:50:02 From Scott Tague to Everyone:
Great job Thanks Kade

18:50:20 From Ron Vincent to Everyone:
great demo

18:50:20 From Scott Hampton, Visalia, CA to Everyone:
You also need to be weary of thread types. Different companies that make bottle stopper kits use different thread counts/sizes. That's why they offer their own mandrels for sale.

18:51:26 From David j Edwards Michigan to Everyone:
Very Good

18:51:28 From Scott Hampton, Visalia, CA to Everyone:
Great demo Kade. Thanks!!!!

18:51:40 From Dave - Lakewood NY to Everyone:
Fantastic demonstration!

18:51:48 From Jacque (Jack) Jecker, Victoria, Texas to Everyone:
Excellent presenter.

18:51:49 From Stephen Makuka to Everyone:
Thanks, Kade, great demo!

18:52:12 From Dan Summers - Columbus Ohio to Everyone:
Kade, once again a great demo. I learned so much

18:52:14 From Lan Brady to Everyone:
Kade, as always, your demos are very informative and easy to follow

18:52:26 From Dave George to Everyone:
Excellent Kade! Thanks!

18:53:04 From Scott Hampton, Visalia, CA to Everyone:
