Hello everyone

15:49:09 From Andy Schuster to Everyone:
hello everyone

15:50:23 From huck joe kansas to Everyone:
Hello everyone. Kansas is very cold today!

15:51:20 From Doug Miller in Kentucky to Everyone:
Special treat, this Friday night, 2/25, 9:00 PM eastern time, Steve Kearvell will be having a live demonstration on YouTube. In case you weren't aware, they are 5 hours ahead of us, so he is starting at 2:00 AM his time.

Join us Friday night for some laughs and maybe even learn a tip or two. You'll want to get into the chat during the demo so that you can ask any questions and join into the shanagans as well.

I hope to see you there.

'night andy

18:15:59 From Gerald Jensen to Everyone:
The index wheel is pinned between the spindle and the chuck. The cable wheel rotates free around the back of the chuck.

18:18:04 From Matt Harber to Everyone:
The index wheel he has is the Iron Fire index wheel, bought through Flutemasters.com (Neither of these places are currently in business).

The index wheel usually sits on your lathe spindle and is held in place only by friction.

FANTASTIC BOB

18:39:52 From Matt Harber to Everyone:
Thanks Bob! Really great jig and good explanation!

18:39:53 From huck joe kansas to Everyone:
Thank you Bob for a very good demo. Hope I can catch up on some that I never got saved.

18:39:57 From Bill Green to Everyone:
Thanks Bob

18:40:06 From Glenn Dornak to Everyone:
Great demo Bob.

18:40:41 From Dave Rhodes - Crescent City to Everyone:
In the next two weeks, I will try to put up a page that lets people enter numbers and automatically do the "arithmetic" that you described.

18:40:50 From Kade Bolger, Woodturner to Everyone:
