Basswood? What is a source in USA? Works like silly putty for embellishing

Gallery is missing some great shots? Photos of your work would be a great addition.

17:10:40 From Matt Harber to Everyone:
Basswood = Linden. This is a favorite wood of pyrographers (wood burners), as the grain is consistent and white... and the wood is soft.
My neighbor has 3 of them in his front yard...

Thanks everybody. Need to leave. Family matter.

17:11:26 From Matt Harber to Everyone:
I live in SE Michigan, There is a fair number of these trees around. Ask landscapers and tree trimmers.

17:12:58 From Gerald Jensen to Everyone:
Basswood is pretty common in the upper Midwest ... a lumber mill I do business with usually has a lot of kiln-dried basswood in their inventory

Algoma Lumber in Wisconsin has about 85K BF on hand.
