Reacted to "Not any more..." with

17:40:25 From Jacque Jecker - Victoria, Texas to Everyone:
I agree. I have always thought it is too dangerous. It only takes one slip and you are dead. I think the only reference we should have on our website should be to discourage it.

17:40:30 From Ron Radliff to Everyone:
Just chatted with Dane. He's on his way back home. Says to all in the meetingg

17:41:42 From Ron Radliff to Everyone:
That should say "He says HI to all in the meeting".

AAW's response As a response to these fatalities and incidents, and based on the recommendation of the chair of the AAW Safety Committee, the AAW Board of Directors adopted the following policy on May 17, 2017: It is the policy of the American Association of Woodturners (AAW) that the process known as Fractal Burning is prohibited from being used in any AAW-sponsored events, including regional and national symposia, and that AAW-chartered chapters are strongly urged to refrain from demonstrating or featuring the process in chapter events. Further, the process of Fractal Burning shall not be featured in any written or online AAW publication, except for within articles that warn against its use. AAW publications will not accept advertisements for any products or supplies directly related to the process.
