I have a question for the live edge bowl experts: do you guys/girls twice turn your live edge bowls or do you turn the bowl final thin on the first turning, leave the bottom thick, let it warp on its own then square up the bottom so it sits flat after it air dries?

Green, not been. Autocorrect is getting me.

16:47:26 From Ruby Cler to Everyone:
Casey, I make sure the wood was harvested in the winter that way the bark stays adhered to the wood. I turn to about 1 1/4" thick, coat with end grain sealer and leave in the garage for a year, then return it.

16:47:47 From Matt Harber - DAW - Highland, MI - Goblets! to Everyone:
I typically turn them all the way to finish while wet. CA glue the bark edges and any spongy sapwood. If you concave the bottom, it almost never warps to the point where it wobbles.
